

A new Start. A New brand.

Copthorne Hotel Greymouth is now open

The West Coast is a region known for its untamed natural wilderness. Driving over one of the three famous passes, I wondered if it is the air, the pace, or the people that make you feel the way you do. It was only during a recent site inspection that I worked it out...the region revives all of your senses.

- The raw nature beauty of the lush rainforests and rugged coastline
- The silky touch of the giant Pounamu in the main street
- The delicious and oh so satisfying combination of fresh product and local flavours at dinner
- The sounds of native birdlife
- And the refreshing scent of the salty ocean breeze off the Tasman Ocean

It is unbeatable.

The West Coast has certainly had its challenges over the years and the pandemic has left its mark, so it is great to have a reason to celebrate...after extensive refurbishment, on Tuesday 1st March the Kingsgate Hotel Greymouth reopens its doors and has been upgraded to Copthorne Hotel Greymouth.

The West Coast is a strong, hardy and loyal community and Millennium Hotel and Resorts are proud to have reinvested back into the region and its people, as this unique stand up hotel has strong links and history with the township and its locals. The refurbished 53 room hotel includes 1 suite and 5 disabled rooms, with all the well-appointed accommodation rooms featuring fresh, crisp décor, high speed internet and views from every room. The ground floor has been completely redone and showcases the first of Millennium Hotels and Resorts rebranded signature restaurants: Jimmy Cooks Kiwi Kitchen. Here the local produce is the hero, combined with the indigenous flavours of Aotearoa New Zealand; to bring you a delicious seasonal dining experience in a friendly, relaxed environment.
